1 Right-click the PDF you want to open. If you're using a Mac and don't have a right mouse button, press Control as you click the file. This will open a context menu. 2 Select Open with. It's near the top of the menu. Another menu will expand. Advertisement 3 Click Word or Microsoft Word on the menu. This opens Word and attempts to display the PDF. 4 Click OK to convert the file. Word will convert the file to its own format and display the results. If you're converting a larger file, it can take a few minutes to complete. 5 Edit the Word document. The converted document may not have perfect page to page correspondence due to line and page breaks, graphics, and other details. Making manual adjustments may be necessary. If you downloaded the PDF from the internet, you'll see a bar at the top of the document asking if you want enable editing. Click Enable Editing so you can make changes to the file. 6 Save the converted PDF. Once you're ready to save the converted file as its own Word document, do the following: Windows — Click File, click Save As, click This PC, enter a file name, select a save location on the left side of the window, and click Save. Mac — Click File, click Save As, enter a name, select a file location, and click Save. Advertisement 1 Go to in your computer's web browser. This will open your Google Docs page if you're logged into your Google Account. If you aren't logged in, enter your email address and password when prompted. You may first have to click Go to Google Docs in the middle of the page. One caveat of using Google Docs to convert your PDF is that Google Docs will not preserve any of the PDF's photos. 2 Click the "Upload" icon. You'll see this at the top-right corner of your file list, just below the last template in the gallery. 3 Click the Upload tab. It's at the top of the "Open a file" window. 4 Click Select a file from your device. It's the blue button in the center of the window. 5 Select your PDF file and click Open. This uploads the PDF file to your Google Drive and opens a preview once it has finished uploading. 6 Click the Open with menu. It's at the top-center part of the window. If you don't see the Open with drop-down box, move your mouse to the top of the window. 7 Click Google Docs on the menu. This opens the PDF in Google Docs. If you don't see Google Docs as an option in the drop-down menu, you can add it: click Connect more apps in the drop-down menu, search for google docs, and Install to get it. 8 Save the PDF as a Word document. Now that you've opened the document in Docs, you can save it as a Microsoft Word file and download it to your computer. Here's how: Click File in the upper-left side of the Google Docs page. Select Download. Click Microsoft Word (.docx) as the format. Select a save location and/or click Save if prompted. Advertisement 1 Open Adobe Acrobat DC Pro. If you have the paid version of Adobe Acrobat, you can use it to convert your PDF to a Word document. You'll find this app in your Windows Start menu or your Mac's Applications folder. 2 Right-click the PDF you want to open. If you have Adobe Acrobat Pro (the paid version of Acrobat), you can use it to convert a PDF to a Word document. Right-clicking the file on your computer will open a context menu. If you're using a Mac and don't have a right mouse button, press Control as you click the file instead. 3 Select Open with. It's near the top of the menu. Another menu will expand. 4 Select Adobe Acrobat Pro or Adobe Acrobat Pro DC. This opens the PDF in Acrobat Pro. 5 Click Export PDF. This tool is in the right panel. A list of file types will expand.[1] 6 Click Microsoft Word as the export format. Additional options will expand. 7 Click Word Document. It's the first option on the right panel.[2] This tells Acrobat what type of document to create. 8 Click Export. Acrobat will now convert the file and prompt you to name it. 9 Name the file and click Save. Now that you've saved the PDF as a Word document, you can open and edit in in Microsoft Word. You can do this by converting the PDF into Word using Google Docs, or you can export it into Word by opening the document with the Word application. Question If I convert a PDF magazine to MS Word format, will I be able to edit or print? Yes. Question Why did the document get messed up when I used Google Drive? Tables are different, margins won't adjust and I am trying to help a friend submit a paper that is due tomorrow. This happens because Google Docs uses a different code (UI) to a PDF Document. Hence why it is a different file type. So when the document is getting converted, it tries to place everything in the right place, but looses a lot of the code. This is why you have to edit it to make everything look smart again. See more answers Ask a Question Advertisement Thanks! Thanks! Advertisement Thanks! If you have MS Word, right-click the file on your computer, select Open with, and then select Word on the menu. Click OK to allow Word to change the display format. If you downloaded the PDF from the internet, click Enable Editing at the top of the file and then click OK. Edit the file as needed, click the File menu, and select Save As. Choose a location to save the file, make sure the ""Word Document"" option is selected as the file format, and then click Save. If you don't have Word, you can use Google Docs to convert a PDF for free. But, if the PDF contains images, they may be lost during the conversion. In your web browser, navigate to docs.google.com and sign in with your Google account. Click the small folder icon at the top-right corner of the file list, click Upload, select the PDF, and then click Open to upload it. When the upload is complete, Google Docs will display a preview. Click the Open With menu at the top and select Google Docs. To download the PDF as a Word document, click the File menu, select Download, click Microsoft Word, and then click Save. If you have Adobe Acrobat Pro, you can use it to export any PDF as a Word document. First, open the PDF file with Acrobat. Then, click the File menu, select Export To, and choose Microsoft Word.” Finally, select Word Document. You can then save the file to the desired location. I have been struggling with most of my documents, in a way that I had to actually retype them, and that wasted so much of my time. I'm really grateful for the info that you guys had, because now I can save my precious asset (and that's time). "..." more Share your story If you find that the default file format for your iPhone’s photos is HEIC and you wanted JPG instead, here’s how to change it back. HEIC vs. JPG Back in iOS 11, Apple introduced the HEIC file format for iPhone photos. Among other advantages, it’s more efficient when it comes to file size. From Wikipedia: “The High Efficiency Image File Format (HEIF) is a container format for individual images and image sequences. HEIF image files are typically stored with filename extensions .heif or .heic. ” [or .HEIC] You might not have noticed a default switch in iOS 11 back then because if you emailed the photos, iOS converts them to JPG for compatibility. And of course, iOS knows how to display HEIC files in the Photos app. But, in some cases, along the way, even if the default was JPG the default may have changed again from JPG to HEIC during an iOS update. Changing the Default That happened to me. I noticed that my new default was HEIC, and I needed it to be JPG, so I had to remind myself how to do it. It’s simple. Go to iOS Settings and swipe down to Camera. It’s buried in the 6th block, the one that has Music at the top. Tap Formats Tap Most Compatible to set the default photo format to JPG. See the screenshot. Settings > Camera > Formats Notes 1. All this applies to the iPad as well. 2. Your iPhone will still always save screenshots in the PNG format. There’s a technical reason for this. See: “Why Your iPhone Uses PNG for Screen Shots and JPG for Photos.” 3. The Most Compatible setting will force your videos to be saved in H.264 (AVC) format. This is High Definition (HD), 1080p at 60 fps. 4. If you ever want to record video in 4K/UHD, you’ll have to change the setting back to High Efficiency. This will, of course, save photos as HEIC, but allow video files to be saved as H.265 (HEVC), and then you can elect to record 4K at 60 fps. It sure would be nice to allow both JPG and a default of 4K/UHD/60 fps, but Apple has not yet seen fit to separate the photo and video preferences. 5. In either case above, H.264 or H.265, the file extension remains MOV. 6. If you have an HEIC photo and need to convert it to JPG, there are several safe options without having to download an unfamiliar graphics app to your iPhone. First, you could email it to yourself and let iOS do the conversion. Or you could AirDrop it to your Mac and use the macOS app Preview to convert to JPG. I also found this recent article to be well written and helpful. More Notes & More Reading Windows 10 supports the HEIF format, but there is a lot of momentum on the side of JPG. In the last few years, I haven’t seen any indication of a dramatic, widespread shift to HEIF/HEIC except for, perhaps, some professional photographers. Finally, in early 2019, Google’s Android Pie started offering support for HEIC. Here’s more (good) reading on why the HEIC format exists. Finally, here’s a nifty article that gets into more detail. “What The Heck Is A HEIC File, And How Do I Open It?“
