The diagram shows there has been a remarkable rise in the power output of basic machines during the past 300 years. The maximum power output of a modern steam turbine is in excess of 1 million kilowatts, in stark contrast with the 1 kilowatt output from the early steam engines produced just after 1700.

From the beginning of the 18th century to the middle of the 19th century there were steady improvements in the power output of water wheels and stearn engines. Around 1850 the water turbine was introduced and developed rapidly. The power output of water turbines has improved from less than 1,000 kilowatts in 1850 to more than 100,000 kilowatts in the late 20th century.

The steam turbine was introduced around 1900, and its power output has improved rapidly from a figure of just over 1,000 kilowatts, i.e. around the point where development of the steam engine stopped. By the late 20th century the maximum power output of steam turbines had increased by a factor of three to over 1 million

It is true that peer pressure has become common among teenagers impacting their life in different ways. Though in general, it has both positives and negatives, in my opinion, the benefits of influence by peers are more than the drawbacks. In this globalization era, families do tend to find the right path for their future thus a lot of families are migrating to developed paths of the world. It's good for their offspring but at the same time; they are still lacking new adaption and behavioural techniques of the locals where they migrate. I do agree the above statement should be seriously taken into consideration and the mindset of people should change. In the past 100 years, the standard of life has changed drastically. While the same time; they are still lacking new adaption and behavioural techniques of the locals where they migrate. food is less organic, it is within the reach of almost everyone including other necessities of life like healthcare, education and human rights. In this essay, I will discuss how the peace and availability of medications have changed the life of an ordinary man for the better compared to the past. Some people believe that , in order to address this grave concern, some should prioritize regional workplaces over the foreign locations from where they have taken their training. This essay will be elucidated from both perspectives and Then I shall put forth my viewpoint regarding this pressing issue. In this contemporary era, Internet has been a boon to a society where the computer has replaced all other old-fashioned methods of learning. Kids do tend to spend a lot of duration on the screen rather than studying from books. I disagree with the above statement that children watching television tend to be less well-educated. In the upcoming paragraphs, I will thorough my points. Many manufactured food and drink products contain high levels of sugar nowadays which could cause many health problems. Some people to consuming too much sugar is harmful to our body's health, whereas I do not think making sugary products more expensive is the proper to deal with this problem. Caring and educating children can be recognised as an indispensable part of parents' daily life and it has been exerting profound influence in any society. will render them well-prepared to the coming parental life. This may be true in some cases, but I do not agree with the notion that all mothers and fathers should be required to science, technology and business should be shared freely or not. Some believe that such knowledge should shared with everyone, however, others opine that it is better to keep it confidential. As far as my opinion is concerned, the information which is not sensitive should be shared freely, however, this essay is going to discuss both the public opinions. Improve your writing score in 2 weeksInstantly see mistakes you've made and learn how to avoid them. There is no denying that the economy plays an essential role in a country's prosperity. However, there are other factors also be considered important. This essay will discuss some factors which affect a country the most. In my opinion, all of the factors are equally vital for a country. A section of society is of the opinion that there are more vital environmental degradation currently is the extinction of plants and animals. However, others opine that there are more vital environmental issues. I agree with the latter viewpoint because of pollution and traffic jams. This essay will discuss both sides of the argument as well as my stance in the subsequent paragraphs with examples. In the last two decades, internet growth has been phenomenal and has become the undisputed part of human beings. A number of people are connected with other people are connected with other people are connected with other people are continuously adding new platforms, which are decreasing face-to-face communication. In my opinion, as technology is moving forward, people need internet communication, but the human association is unreplaceable and required for mental health and well-being and in this essay, I will highlight some of the points. Some people say that instead of seeing the Internet as a way of opening up new communication possibilities worldwide, we should be concerned about the effect this is having on social interaction. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this view? Give reasons for your answer and include any relevant examples from your own experience or knowledge. The diagrams compare the university's sports centre layout prior to and after the renovation plan. Looking more closely at the layout, It can be seen that there are considerable discrepancies between the two maps after the construction plan. It is argued that in the coming years , no individual will purchase hardcopy books because of technical issues and health problems. This essay will explain in detail the reasons for my stance as well as examples in the subsequent paragraphs. Some folks consider clothing as a way to guess a person's background and personality, and I believe the same to some extent. to judge people's lifestyle, choosing the type, colour and the cleanliness of people's costumes would allow us to have a wider perspective of their personalities. These days, pollution is increasing dramatically by many factors, and it is believed that raising the cost of transport will be the best way to solve this global issue. Although people may agree with this way, I fundamentally disagree with some aspects of this action. A numerous of people choose to live in a house. I believe that living in flat has more benefits than living in a house. I believe that living in flat has more benefits than living in a house has more advantages. Several individuals agreed with this motivation while the opposite one don not. In my perspective, both approaches should be considered in terms of their unique effectiveness. Some people argue that commercials introduce newly-launched products that can enhance their living standards. While I agree with the former opinion to a certain extent, I am more convinced with the latter one. People have different views about how much choice students should be better for students to be forced into certain key subject areas, I believe that everyone should be able to study the course of their choice. When it comes to erecting new railway lines within a country for very fast trains between cities, some people opine that it is necessary while others think we should spend money on enhancing current public transport. In my point of view, it is worthwhile to do a mixture of both. It is true that a lot of professionals and physicians tend to leave their developing countries to find better jobs in developed nations. I will explain possible problems caused by this situation and suggest some solutions as follows. In the era of technological advancements, it is controversial that celebrities' personal life is exposed widely on public news. I strongly opinion that famous individuals' personal life including not only their romantic relationships but also their income are drawn too much attention from the public. Many parents think that homework provided by the teachers is critical for independent learning, while others argue that study is not viable, and in this essay, I will discuss both aspects briefly. In the past decades, a housing crisis has affected several cities across the globe. Nowadays, many families do not have a place to call home, as they cannot afford to purchase or rent a house. To address this problem, some politicians are proposing to use urban park areas to construct dwellings. However, this policy is highly controversial. Nowadays many people would prefer to spend their entire life close to their native places. However, it has its own merits such as Togetherness in health and sickness and demerits like Lack of knowledge and exposure with respect to culture and lifestyle practice in other parts of country. However, it has its own merits such as Togetherness in health and sickness and demerits like Lack of knowledge and exposure with respect to culture and lifestyle practice in other parts of country. The polarity between rich and poor are getting aggravated. In this essay, the potential problems, such as hate crime and classism, which stemmed from the wealth gap will be addressed, and suggestions on how to tackle these problems will also be delivered. Nowadays, the education system is become more advanced than ever before. Parents have now a variety of choices to opt for dispatching their children to get an education. However, it is generally argued that the duo-sex schooling system is better than the solo-sex system. I couldn't agree more with this notion and in the following paragraphs, I would shed light on reasons to support my stance with examples. There is a growing tendency that this is the right strategy. In this essay, I will explain the reasons why I hold this viewpoint. In this contemporary epoch, whilst some people hold the view that art is a quintessential subjects, opponents and I believe that it is not crucial, because it waste time. My contention will be further explained I am writing to you regarding the project management course that you may apply for this semester. As you are already well-awarded I passed this amazing and very practical course last semester. As an industrial engineering student, you will need project management not only for your future career but also this knowledge can help you to improve your management skills and have a better understanding of how to prioritize tasks and steps with an eye on resources and time. In this contemporary epoch, urban sprawl has become a controversial argument. Whilst proponents have a diverse perspective. However, I believe that living in the metropolises is more convenient due to better education and quality of life. My contention will be further explained. Pictures in newspapers and TV are used very less but somebody believes that pictures are more effective, in my opinion a photo could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition, then readers and viewers could make a great imagination of a condition of a globalisation, it is undeclinable that myriad immigrants choose to settle down in foreign countries. There are two major reasons contributing to this tendency which will be mentioned in the following paragraph. Turn your IELTS writing into band 7+Writing9 scans your text for all types of mistakes, from typos to sentence structure problems and beyond. Nowadays people prefer to do things as per their own choices and convenience. In other words, some individuals are explorer who likes to explore new things. In my opinion, people should do the activities which they fond of and should be enjoying while witnessing the same. In modern times, thanks to technology we have access to an excessive load of applications and websites to achieve our needs, including finding friends. According to this tendency, there are two strong opinions on both sides, which I will consider in this essay. People in some countries believe that owning a house is better than renting one. This is because they do not have to pay rent. In my opinion, it is a positive situation and my reasons will be highlighted in the essay. Nowadays, an increased rate of crime is observed among youngsters. Every day, another person becomes a victim in society. But what is the effective method to deal with it? However, it is generally argued that splendid parenting traits are the best measure to combat this. I partially agree with this notion and in the following paragraphs, I would shed light on reasons to support my stance with examples. A problem of our generation is that more people are overweight and they do a less physical activity so the consequence with examples. are reflecting directly on their health. For instance, the causes of these issues come from the quality of the food we are eating, from the stressful life that we are living. Also some problems come from the value are eating, from the stressful life that we are living. address these causes and we will analyze the solutions to avoid more people getting sicker because of the lifestyle they have at the moment. In recent years, a huge amount of domestic waste has caused vigorous problems. Residual leachate and pest population growth are two crucial issues that societies are facing, for instance. However, some solutions have been declared to manage it, such as recycling and composting. Nowadays, many individuals have been watching to much time in this activities. Some peple believe that spending to much time in their leisure time also they are spanding to much time in their leisure time also they are spanding to much time in their leisure time also they are spanding to much time the television in their leisure time also they are spanding to much time in this activities. impacted negatively to anyone and I will discuss in this case the upcoming paragraphs. In many societies, many individuals prefer to buy a house instead of renting. In this essay, I will be looking at some causes of this trend and the reasons why I believe this is a positive development. Young's are the main power of any country. Even it is true, nowadays the youth population in most nations are comparatively more than older people. Improve your writing score in a moment. In this day and age, consumer spending is greatly affected by the use of media influencing the youngsters leading towards a considerable concern. There are certain reasons to this phenomenon and its aftermath. However, it is undeclinable that this solution can have transparent impacts on society as a whole, I am strongly in disagreement. Nowadays, school educating science but also for teaching social behaviour is vitally important . It has been suggested that voluntary work such as working for charity and teaching younger children can be beneficial in preparing more responsible persons for society. Hence, community service should apply to the secondary school's curriculum. I agree to some extent with the stated idea. I will support my opinion in this essay and bring about a few examples. These days, global warming and climate change are the two main environmental concerns. In addition, conserving the Earth's natural resources from running out is also an important issue. As a result, some people suggested that human being should change their lifestyle in order to save the world's resources for the next generation. I agree to some extent with the stated idea. I will support my opinion in this essay and bring about a few examples. Some people maintain that taking risks will bring more benefits than drawbacks to individuals' life. From my perspective, I am in favour of this opinion. I am writing to you with regard to the article published in the National newspaper, which claims that all the town centres of India are indistinguishable. It is said that every student should learn a foreign language at the early stage of their school career. From my perspective, I would completely agree with that statement as there are many benefits to students compared to a few negatives. In the following paragraphs, I am going to discuss the advantages due to learning a foreign language earlier. Nowadays, parents are a little confused about the utilization of children's free time. Some people argue that they should do group activities while others advise to use it alone. This essay will further discuss both views individually in the below paragraphs. Advanced technology plays a crucial role in our lives. In the near coming era, all vehicles, such as cars, buses and trucks, will be operated without human intervention. In my opinion, the advantages of this phenomenon outweigh the disadvantages. Although risk-taking can be critical for people's working and private lives, I believe that the merit of taking chances outweighs the drawbacks. Art is an important cultures, stories, experiences and personal perspectives. This is the focus of debate, and there are two reasons it behind. The first reason is that children think art is the most important subject. This essay is to discuss the possible reasons of both sides and my own views. Owning a private vehicle is becoming more popular amongst people worldwide. While there are a lot of advantages of having a personal car, it still has some disadvantages that most owners should be aware of. This essay discusses why only using a car can be a problem and how to remedy the issue. In today's modern world, books are definitely playing a pivotal role in youngsters' development Therefore, some go as far as to say children should spend time reading stories from books rather than watching TV or video games. From my perspective, I strongly concur with this school of thought due to some compelling reasons. Nowadays , getting a good job is very difficult for anybody so some communities believe that people should get employment after the job because it is very difficult for everyone to get a wonderful business after graduation. However, others believe that students should attend college. In this essay, I would explain both views and give my opinion in the forthcoming paragraphs. Need a higher score on IELTS Writing? Conversely, some argue that it is vital for us to know about the useful things in the market. I will discuss both views with relative examples, and I will state my opinion in a later part. Mobile phones are the tool of our age, every one has one these shiny flat screens. Their popularity is connected to the fact, that they are key to almost evertyhing, not only calls. There is nothing which can not be done by or with the mobile phone. We pay, order, sleep and dance etc. with it. Despite of the fact that phones are usally made for and by adults, more and more young children are to be seen with such. Therefore is the wonder if this development is positive or not. It is argued that during a natural catastrophe, wealthy land should support other impoverished public. In this essay, I agree with this statement because richer countries have more experience and higher financial stability. Heavy traffic is a big issue in most cities today. While there are already some ways to remedy the problem such as using public transport, further management may be needed to reduce traffic such as implementing increased tax on vehicles owned privately. In my opinion, I agree to that taxation of people with a private vehicle in order to reduce cars in the road for better traffic. Recently, kids' leisure activities have been affected by breakthroughs in technology. I, personally, think that technology provides significant benefits over drawbacks which their merits will firstly argue that the principal catastrophes this is causing are deforestation and the increased spreading of disease. Only through green space conservation and public health education campaigns can these problems be solved. It is argued that during a natural catastrophe, wealthy countries should support other impoverished nations. In this essay, I agree with this statement because richer countries have more experience and higher financial stability. In recent decades, human well-being has been sacrificed due to the ubiquity of ill-advised dietary patterns and imbalanced eating routines despite their awareness of their harmful impacts. Surprisingly, many families prefer to stay in the neighbourhood where they were born for the rest of their lives. That spending most of the time living in the same area allows people to be familiar with the number of times spent on travelling and limited opportunities in career. In recent years, although living in large cities make the rate of life satisfaction falling down, people expect ministries to find effective solutions for that. In addition, while the population is rapidly growing, traffic jams and pollution, as a consequence of the issue, are dramatically increasing, for instance. However, the ministry can motivate women and men to move to the suburb or smaller regions by providing them with sufficient amenities. Surprisingly, many people prefer to stay in the neighborhood where they were born for the rest of their lives. That spending most of the time living in the same area allows people to be familiar to the places and provides convenience; however, they need to trade off these advantages with the number of times spent on travelling and limited opportunity in career. Nowadays, customers have a number of choices on one product, from chocolate shops to garments. The main advantages of this trend are that people can buy their products according to their products according to their products according to their product. main demerits are that it will take a long time to choose one item and creates bewilderment to choosing items. I will explain my reason for it in the following paragraphs. Recent years have seen a global switch from a scarcity of online retailers, to the internet being people's primary source for shopping. The advantages of purchasing goods from the comfort of your home and increased business for companies will be discussed in this essay. However, the negative effect of online shopping on tourism will also be debated. Innovative Technology, swiftly developed to become more accessible, has become a crucial part of society. The younger generation, who grows up along through this transformation period, tends to spend free time using Technological devices, which unexpectedly alter their life in many aspects. From my point of view, although new machinery can improve the way of communication and promotes learning, it may cause social and health issues for children. It is a general opinion that both parents and teachers have a duty to put children in direction. Although some think parents should take full responsibility to teach everything, others think teachers also have a part in order to make children a valuable asset in our world. This essay will discuss the role of a parent and why teachers give immense support to parents to put their children on the right path. Transportation of goods and services is paramount for every society but can this be easily carried out without proper road construction? While people ask if the government should spend funds more on road and highway maintenance or provide more capital in improving public transportation. In this, essay I will state my views and reasons for that.Performing an entertaining activity can effectively attribute to an enhancement of skills and imagination for children should explore alternative ways of learning which they are enjoyed in order to build their capabilities.
